Some clever text about the popularity of coloring books for adults paired with Trina's love of journaling lead her to create Coloring Journal: a place to color write + paste. 40 pages of hand-drawn illustrations to color plus room to journal, doodle, draw and paste. Includes an envelope filled with ephemera for pasting; each collection of ephemera is unique.

(I lifted the follwing text but like it: A vellum pocket attached to the inside front cover holds printed pieces of ephemera for collaging—sure to inspire anyone obsessed with paper to create mixed-media art of their own. With plenty of room for sketching, collaging, or writing, this guided journal is the place to dream big, be messy, and capture creativity. **

**I invite people to color, write and paste**

PS - I'm digging Myriad as a font
